1) Benefits to Customer :

Small and medium size European customers must be sourcing their requirement of steel products specially like sheet, plates, chequered plates etc. from local traders, these local traders are like us who purchase the above material in bulk stores them, processed them and then supply to the end user. In some case the end user may process it further so as to enable them to use the material directly and their machines. We would like to support those who buy less than 500 MT. of the above material every month.

These local traders must be charging for all their expenses and the profit which in our estimate must be atleast 3-4 times of that of Indian expenses. We can take the place of these local traders and that too at a very low cost. So there is a clear cost benefit to European manufacturers with assurance of same quality

2) Quality :

Presently most of the steel products are exported to European country from India, China, Russia Etc. When compared Indian quality may be the most preferred one. India produces all the grades required by Industries and thus quality should never be any problem. We can even provide all the certificate and inspection by SGS or any agency appointed by the buyer.
